

Avon Wing Ding 2010

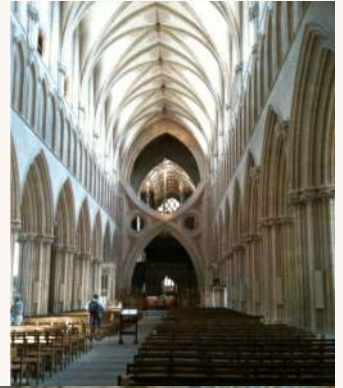

A few D&C members attended the Avon Wing Ding from June 30th to July 4th.

The Avon members made us welcome with a free cider on arrival.

The site was large and members from Wales, Yorkshire and the Midlands to name a few were all camped in groups with their regional flags flying.

There were the usual stands and evening entertainment laid on which included a free Bar-B-Q on Saturday night.

The Sunday rideout was a major event to the 'Truckfest'. There were bikes of all sizes and more trikes than I can remember seeing in one place at the same time. We saw Pat and Terry's trike and spoke to the new owners who were very pleased with it.

D&C members decided not to go on the arranged rideout, but instead headed out across the Mendips to Wells.

While looking around the Cathedral, Brian got told off for not removing his cap when inside (can't take him anywhere) was my response.

Then onto Glastonbury for lunch.

After lunch we rode across the Sedgemoor to Burnham on Sea, there we picked up provisions and made our way back over the Mendips on roads with hardly any traffic, a real delight.

Later that evening we had a Bar-B-Q and so ended a really enjoyable weekend.
